Greatly Expanded Facilities

Hold Official Opening Lomond School Addition

(By Mrs. L. M. Chase)

The Lomond School Addition was officially opened on Monday, Oct. 30, with a large crowd in attendance. The new addition to Lomond School provides for six additional class rooms, a gymnasium with stage, library, home economics room, industrial arts room and a laboratory. Grades 1 to 12 inclusive are taught at Lomond under a staff of 11 teachers.

The architects for the addition were Meech, Mitchell, Robins and Associates of Lethbridge. Contractors were Southern Alberta Construction Ltd., Lethbridge. The cost of the project was $232,689.00.

Andrew McAllister, member of the Vulcan County School Committee, acted as chairman for the program marking the official opening. Rev. Granberg gave the invocation. Mr. McAllister then introduced the guests of honor. Ross Ens, a high school student, then gave an interesting reading on the history of Lomond School. Mervin Liebreich, principal, expressed the feeling of the students and staff toward the new addition.

School Committee Chairman J. M. McKay, School Superintendent Earl Hawkesworth and County Secretary-Treasurer D. D. McQueen extended congratulations.

A Fraser then entertained with a piano solo and Allan McLeod with a vocal solo. Following this, presentations were made by the Goodwill and Community Clubs. The contractors and architects then presented a picture and map to the school. Two shields were presented by the Home and School Association on which were to be engraved the names of the Grade XII and Grade IX honor students each year. Mr. Liebreich accepted these awards for the school and expressed appreciation to the donors.

The guest speaker, Hon. Rev. Peter Dawson, M.L.A., representative of the Department of Education, was then introduced by J. M. McKay. Mr. Dawson spoke appropriately of the importance of education in our society. He aptly traced the development of the Alberta educational system, from the rural schools to the present modern schools. He discussed the cost of education and how it was borne by the provincial government. He stressed the necessity of schools developing the students to the point where they are responsible citizens of our province and country. Following his speech, Rev. Dawson presented a picture to the school, a gift of the Department of Education.

The High School Girls Chorus then presented three selections. The program closed with the singing of "God Save the Queen." A tour of the school followed the program. To bring the evening to a close, the Home and School Association served refreshments.

Control Area

Brucellosis Testing Program Starts Dec. 1

Dr. A. E. Lewis, District Veterinarian for the Health of Animals Division in Alberta, discussed their brucellosis area test and slaughter program with the Agricultural Service Board in Vulcan on Oct. 18. It is expected that testing will start about Dec. 1, and will take about one year to complete. The County of Vulcan was gazetted a control area in April 1960.

Under this program all owners must submit their cattle to a blood test. Tests are not carried out on steers, calves under eight months and official vaccinates under three years of age are exempt at the first test of a herd. In most cases the blood samples are collected by trained technicians employed by practising veterinarians.

Owners must provide satisfactory testing facilities and assist inspectors by assembling the cattle and providing whatever additional help may be required to carry out the test.

The blood samples are tested at the federal laboratory in Lethbridge and animals that prove positive to the test are ordered slaughtered by veterinary inspectors of the Health of Animals Division.

Compensation is paid for reactor cattle — the maximum for grade cattle is $70 and for purebred registered cattle $140. As maximum compensation is intended for outstanding cattle, compensation for most reactor cattle is less than the maximum. Evaluation for compensation purposes is done by veterinary inspectors and is based on the age, conformation and future usefulness of the reactor animal.

Herds with positive animals are quarantined until the herd passes a negative retest, however, the quarantine does not apply to steers and calves under eight months. When a herd is under quarantine an owner may obtain a permit from the Health of Animals Division to ship an animal for slaughter.

Following the removal of reactor cattle, the owner must clean and disinfect his premises and when this work has been carried out an officer visits the premises to inspect the work. When the cleaning and disinfecting is carried out satisfactorily, the owner receives his compensation cheque from Ottawa.

Reactors are licensed to a packing house under federal inspection and the owner receives the slaughter value of the animal. Owners should accompany their reactors to make their own financial arrangements with the packing house buyers.

Brucellosis calfhood vaccination will not eradicate the disease, however, it has reduced the infection to the point where it is now feasible to follow through with a test and slaughter program to eliminate the disease from an area.

Musk-oxen are only a remnant of the herds of early history. They are rigidly protected by Federal law.

This rather incredible sight, especially in the halls of Vulcan High School could only mean one thing — initiations in progress.

Taken Friday afternoon following a brief debut into public society in which they towed the principal's car downtown and back, some of the 89 citizens of tomorrow are pictured at the top of an oriental bow, the formal salutation reserved for the great and mighty Grade 11 students.

High School "Freshies" Initiated Monday

"We honor thee, most honorable and exalted Grade Elevens." This pledge, to the accompaniment of three oriental bows whenever such a senior was met, was the final touch of humility suffered by 89 Grade nine and ten Vulcan High School students last Friday as junior members were "welcomed" to the school fraternity by initiations.

Such a come-down in itself would have been mortifying enough but the "riggings" worn during all this were unequalled a few nights later on Halloween when much younger minds played a similar game, only their's was for keeps.

In future years only Grade 9 students will be involved in the receiving end of initiation but on this occasion, the first year in which the whole school is turned over to Grades nine to twelve, it meant taking in both lower high school grades to make it sporting.

The dress for the initiation prescribed by Grade 11 members of the Students' Union, grows more tragic each year and there can't be any of the clan who cleaned downtown stores out of rattles and painfully borrowed odd high heeled shoes, garters and ear-rings from neighbors, who will not approach his studies from here on in with the proper feeling of insignificance attached to one of Grade nine or ten level.

Girls wore pigtails tied with ribbon, gunny-sack blouse and a bright colored tie and pictures on the bare arms. Father's old pants, turned inside out with the left leg rolled above the knees, was the lower garment and stripes were drawn on the bare leg. A toe rubber and footlet for the left foot and an old high heel shoe for the right and brightly colored ankle socks completed the female ensemble.

Starting with their hair which was combed so that it parted in the middle with half combed onto the forehead, and with a ribbon taking in any excess, the boys came down to brightly made up face with different colors for upper and lower lips. A bikini and beach towel took care of the upper body while a skirt not more than a foot and a half long started the lower half. One leg had nylon hose supported by a garter and the other leg remained bare and to finish the garb necklace and earrings were obligatory.

All boys and girls equipped themselves with three-inch cardboard collars, baby bottle and rattle and wore freshman signs with "kick me" printed on them. Shortly after noon, Friday, Vulcan citizenry were treated to this masquerade as the whole entourage was sent downtown with the girls pulling the car of principal H. Mumby while the boys acted as

Services Held For Sisters Are Brides Mrs. E. Thompson In Double Wedding

A well known pioneer of the Lomond district and resident of Vulcan for the past ten years, Mrs. Ellen Susannah Thompson died on Oct. 28, at the age of 80.

Born at Hornchurch, Essex, England, she came with her husband to the Lomond district in 1912 and resided there until 1961, when Mr. and Mrs. Thompson retired and moved to Vulcan.

Besides her husband, Albert L., she is survived by one son, Henry A., of Lomond, and three daughters, Mrs. H. W. (Clara) Brice of Vulcan, Miss Elsie Thompson of Vulcan and Miss Dorothy Thompson, New Westminster, B.C.; four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Two sisters, Mrs. Annie Makrow and Mrs. Susan Bishop, and one brother, Joseph Pamment, survive in England.

Services were conducted by Rev. D. A. Sharpe at the Vulcan United Church on Tuesday, Oct. 31, and interment was in the Vulcan cemetery. The Vulcan Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Pall bearers were M. J. Bolduc, R. A. Honess, R. J. Honess, H. J. Crawford, Tom Chambers and Joe Chambers.

Senior Citizens Night Nov. 8

The regular monthly meeting of the Vulcan Lionettes was held Monday evening at the Vulcan Cafe at which time the final arrangements for the Senior Citizens' Night were discussed.

Tickets are available downtown at the Fashionette, Simpson-Sears, Mitchell's Pharmacy and the Betty Ann Shoppe. The banquet will commence at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 8, at the IOOF Hall and anyone not able to obtain their own transportation is requested to contact Mrs. Grace Dahl, phone 90, Vulcan, who has so kindly offered to provide transportation to any senior citizen having difficulty in this respect.

Lionettes enjoyed a very interesting demonstration on table decorations given by Mrs. Beulah Allen. It was decided to exchange gifts at the next meeting worth approximately $1.00. A committee was picked to provide entertainment for this meeting.

majorities marching behind.

Back at the school shortly before classes, the victims were marched from room to room on display, and singing in various keys and tempos, but always loud, two lines of an approaching Christmas song.

Release for the outcasts came that night when a wind-up dance in the auditorium was held.

The more serious aspects of school work resumed Monday morning.

Resolutions Passed

Fish & Game Re-elects Wm. Holton As President

For the third time around Bill Holton was elected president of the Vulcan and District Fish & Game Association for 1962 at the October meeting held in the Vulcan Cafe, Oct. 25. Two new faces were added to the elected executive when Glen Dahl accepted the vice-presidency and Reg Bomford took over secretary's duties.

Three of the resolutions discussed by the meeting were passed for presentation at the provincial Fish & Game Convention next year. The first involved the limiting, by the government, of miles travelled each month by game officers, without regard to areas of each or number of officers in each district. The local resolution suggests that as mileage is too small in some areas, a thorough investigation should be made of the matter.

A second resolution, and one which would see an about-face regarding pheasant shooting laws, reads: "Whereas so many hen pheasants are shot on opening day and are left to spoil due to present regulations, be it resolved that hunters be allowed to shoot a combined total of three birds of either sex on the opening day of the season." In this regard one member cited a conversation he had this season with a hunter from the United States who claimed in his locality the practice of opening the season on hens for a short period had proven beneficial to over-all pheasant population. Chief argument favoring open season on hens was that this would help eliminate older birds no longer fertile and who bother the younger hens and damage nests. The ideal ratio of male to female birds for breeding and how open season would affect this balance was one thought expressed concerning the resolution.

Third resolution advocated an increase in the non-Canadian, non-resident fishing licence.

Members were reminded that the goose, duck and pheasant derby is on with trophies up for winners, to be given at the annual banquet. Stu Joiner of Central Meat Market will weigh in all classes for those close to Vulcan while Don McCord is handling the Queens-town area and Milo hunters may go to Joe Thomson. Weigh stations are being established at Ensign and Herrington.

A year's try-out is being given a new method of taking measurement of pheasants. In order to increase entries hunters now weigh their bird, take the weight in ounces, add it to the length of tail-feather and get a point total which will be recorded.

Carl Steiner of the big game committee announced a new Elk trophy to be added to the Deer trophy already in circulation. Hunting in the west country is in full swing and this year the last day of the season is Dec. 9. A drive will be made to get all horns

JANICE LOUISE BERTRAND

Awarded Nursing Scholarship

Now of Calgary, formerly of Milo and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Bertrand, Miss Janice Bertrand attained her R.N. with distinction and was one of the 1961 class of the Calgary General Hospital, graduating Oct. 13.

Miss Bertrand won a $250 Scholarship Award for General Proficiency, conferred by the Medical Staff of the Calgary General Hospital.

Eye Badly Injured

An unfortunate accident that will likely result in the loss of sight in one eye of five-year-old Billy Richardson occurred last Thursday afternoon.

The youngster, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson, was playing with a screwdriver when it slipped and flipped up, with the sharp end entering the boy's eyeball.

He was rushed to the Vulcan Clinic, where the eye was bandaged, and then to Calgary, where an operation was performed that night. Although the eyeball itself was saved, damage to it was such that it is unlikely its sight will be regained.

in on Dec. 15, to be measured that day.

Speaking on the migratory game situation, Don McCord reported more geese than ever at Lake McGregor and particularly towards the Bow River and Basano country. Although there were some eyebrows lifted at the numbers, Don made claim to being in the same area as 20,000 geese, two-thirds being grey and the balance white. He did not admit to being within shooting distance of these, however. Ducks are poor this year and are inconsistent in their field feeding.

A question arising from a discussion as to whether a farmer may shoot within 200 yards of his own buildings was answered by reference to the Game Act which states, "No person other than the owner or occupant shall hunt any game bird within 200 yards of an occupied dwelling."

Another argument over whether a farmer may hunt his land without a licence is answered from the same source as follows: A resident who (a) is the owner, homesteader or lessee of land that is used for farming or ranching purposes, and (b) actually resides and carries on the business of farming or ranching upon the said land or some part thereof, and any member of such resident's immediate family who actually resides on the said land, may without a licence or permit, hunt game birds during the open season therefor upon such land, but not elsewhere.

Raffle prize of a flashlight was taken home by Joe Beatty, and before lunch was served, three films, one on water safety and two on Rocky Mountain scenery, were seen.

Strange as it may appear, the four young Vulcan High School students are in their right minds and were wondering themselves, about the sanity of the Grade 11 perpetrators of the initiation ritual

Efforts Needed to Keep Trade Growing

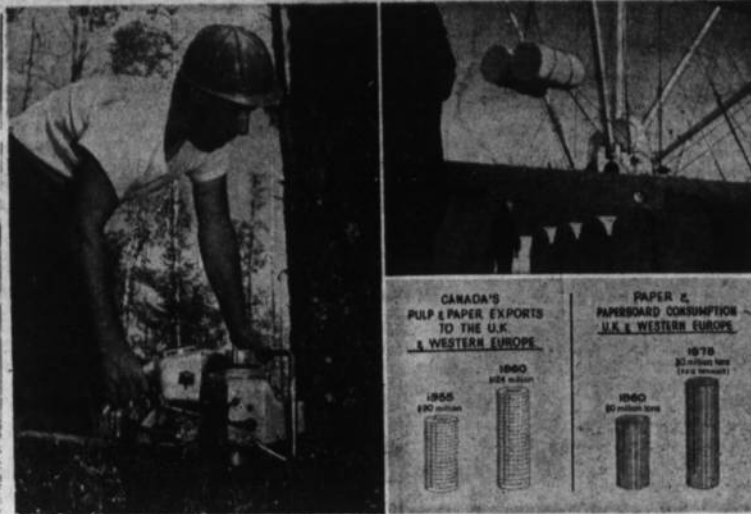

Higher Exports To U.K., Europe Benefit Canada

Pulpwood harvested by farmers, other woodlot owners, and the pulp and paper companies, and afterwards converted into pulp, paper, and paperboard, is moving overseas in increasing amounts this year.

In the form of Canadian newsprint, it brings the news of the day to readers in London, Edinburgh, and many other cities and towns in the United Kingdom. As Canadian pulp, it serves as the raw material for hundreds of European products, from German magazines to Italian milk bottle caps, and from Belgian books to Dutch cardboard boxes.

The trade is already important — and growing. Last year, Canadian shipments of pulp and paper to Britain and Western Europe totalled some $125 millions. In terms of volume, this was the equivalent of about 1½ million cords of pulpwood.

The economies of Western Europe continue to grow rapidly, and economic growth always means increased demand for pulp and paper. Recent estimates of paper and paperboard consumption, made by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, forecast that the U.K. and Western Europe will be using 30 million tons of these products by 1975, compared with only 20 million today.

Pulpwood harvested in Canadian forests, converted into paper and pulp, and shipped to the United Kingdom and Western Europe, represents an important part of the nation's trade. Canada hopes to share in the future growth of demand in these overseas areas, where paper and paperboard consumption is rising rapidly.

Canada hopes to share in this increased demand. If she does the benefits, in the form of more jobs, larger payrolls, increased purchases of pulpwood,

ADVERTISING IS NEWS, TOO!

People buy this newspaper for news of the world, the country and our community in particular. Our readers are also interested in news about food, clothes, entertainment, automobiles, furniture and all of the necessities and luxuries that have to do with daily living.

Through advertising in this paper you can give our readers the up-to-date news about your merchandise and services. Each one of your advertisements can be a newspaper within a newspaper.

Of course you should know all about the circulation of the newspaper that is carrying the news of your business. How many people buy the paper? Where are they located? How was the circulation obtained? To give you this information and many other facts that you need and have a right to know when you buy advertising space, this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

Established in 1914, the Bureau is a cooperative, nonprofit association of 3,575 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers. Its purpose is to furnish advertisers with verified reports on the circulation of its publisher members.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced auditors makes a thorough inspection and audit of our circulation records, just as the bank examiner makes a check of your bank's records. The information thus obtained is published in official A.B.C. reports. When you buy space in this newspaper our A.B.C. report tells you just what, in circulation values, you get for your advertising investment.

This newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.
Advertisers are invited to ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

No Excuse For This

While the weather is still mild enough to do something about it might be a good time to register an overdue complaint about the water shut-off valves projecting an inch or so about the sidewalks in the downtown area.

Just last week a lady stubbed her toe on one of these valves and suffered a bad fall, breaking her glasses and cutting and bruising her face. Other such incidents from the same cause have been reported and it would appear that something should be done immediately to correct this situation.

The fact that the town may be covered by public liability insurance to protect itself against any suit that may arise out of such an accident is no excuse for doing nothing about this dangerous situation. In the interests of preventing such accidents and of good public relations, the valves should be lowered or the sidewalks built up around them.

Lomond

ST. JOHN'S ANGLICAN GUILD

The October meeting of the Lomond St. John's Anglican Guild was held at the home of Rev. and Mrs. McClintock in Vulcan. There were five members and one visitor present. The meeting was called to order by repeating "The Lord's Prayer."

The treasurer's report was given with $92.00 being the approximate sum realized at the bake sale held Oct. 21. It was decided that Lomond would pay one-sixth the cost of installing a furnace in the rectory in Vulcan. A discussion on new prayer books followed and it was decided to buy 24 and have eight of them engraved with the confirmation candidates names, the remainder to be placed in the church.

A luncheon was planned for the Bishop and congregation to follow the confirmation on Sunday, Nov.

26. It was also decided that the guild would cater for the Lions Ladies' Night. One dozen church calendars were ordered.

The hostess for the November meeting will be Mrs. Anne Ruppert, and will be held on Thursday evening, Nov. 18. On lunch will be Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. Frost, Mrs. Goldthorpe and Mrs. Hanna. On roll call auction Mrs. Hanna, Mrs. Humphreys, Mrs. F. Maronda, Mrs. Ruppert, Mrs. Chase and Mrs. Chambers.

A lovely lunch was served by Mrs. McClintock and her mother-in-law to end a very pleasant afternoon.

The Lomond Goodwill Service Club will again sponsor the Annual Community Card. The sum of $110.27 was received last year, and has been deposited in a separate bank account to be used for a worthwhile local project. We solicit your co-operation again this year.

Beach At Sylvan Lake Popular Spot For Summer Fun

Dear R.C.R. Munro: Regarding this holiday review, currently being tackled, one should record events and impressions day by day as they occur, but if one does that, work is overlapping pleasure which should never be allowed so we'll stagger along much later.

The setting was Sylvan Lake, the time was late in July, the week that the rains came down, and with the beautiful beach strip more or less in the hands of the gulls and a few brave souls, mostly under 12 years of age, we took to travelling around the town and country.

Sylvan is pleasant and small with a population of around 1,300 which swells to from 5,000 to 10,000 during the summer season. It is mindful of the Idaho resort town of Couer d'Alene where the beach area also runs parallel to the main street and within a few blocks of the water you're back farming. Couer d'Alene has more water and probably 15 times the population but this latter comparison favors Sylvan where peace and serenity are concerned.

Sylvan shows the effects of a booming popularity resulting in a temporary growth for several months each summer where services and roads have not been able to keep up with demand. One real estate agent mentioned in describing the presence of sewer facilities in some of the town, but not public water mains to go with it, that when Sylvan's water plebiscite came up, many residents had already invested money in installing their own private supply so the vote was against, leaving some homes and many cabins without tap water.

Although the town is growing and there is one new set of duplex motel accommodation on the main waterfront, and other smaller units recently built, there is not the investment in motels and cabins that may be seen at almost any other resort and one cannot help but wonder why. True, the season is short but it is the same length as at other holiday points in Alberta where rapid expansion has taken place. It is also true that at Sylvan there is very little of the one or two-night stop-over traffic. Most of the summertime population, with the exception of the weekenders, is made up of families in for a week or more, but trying to get a cabin during the height of the season is not easy.

At one of at least three real estate offices which lease cabins for owners, there was very little accommodation at the time and even for the month of July 1962, many cabins were already booked solid.

It seems unusual that with the scarcity of such beach resorts in this province and with such a great summer demand for the inexpensive type of family living available there along the mile or so of free beach, that private enterprise is not catering to that demand with more accommodation. Along the edge of the lake a much different picture presents itself. Each year more and more private cabins appear along the steadily growing waterfront and it seems certain that any part of the lake not reserved for public beaches will be eventually be bought privately. These are beautiful locations and there are some very impressive summer homes along the shore where families come to enjoy the warm months by the water.

In this holiday family it was dad's job to tend to evening chores of stoking the kitchen stove, splitting logs for the fireplace and gathering kindling and coal for the other half of the household executive who lit the morning fires and put breakfast on the table, before rousing the sleeping master. However sudden logs don't split well and burn with no ambition while kindling works wonders in a fireplace so there were some ill feelings expressed each morning when the day shift came on and nothing which to light the fire.

Law Catches Up To Car Thief

The mechanics of the law, both local and on an international scale, finally caught up with an Irwin Royer during September when he was brought back to Calgary from the United States to face several charges including one of car theft from Richardson & Gould of Vulcan.

Just before Christmas 1960, Royer, who claimed to have been working near Mossleigh, called at Richardsons with an old model car, believed to be a 1950 Mercury and wanted to trade it for cash in order to purchase a bus ticket to go east for Christmas as he didn't feel the car would take him that far.

Bill Richardson dealt with him and the stranger left. At closing time Bill went for his car, a new 1960 Dodge Sedan, and when he couldn't find it surmised that one of the other staff members had taken it. However contact with the staff revealed no car and as the evening wore on it appeared the car had been stolen and police were called.

In the ensuing investigation attendants at the Corner Store and Service Station recalled selling gas to the driver of that model but from that point contact was lost. From local police records, the path of the criminal led to an armed robbery at Kenora, Ont., and a further theft at Philadelphia where he was apprehended and returned to Calgary to face other charges as well. The local theft tacked on a further two years to his sentence to be served at Prince Albert.

In less spectacular Vulcan police news, 26 complaints resulted in the same number of court cases heard in September, all of which netted $552 in fines. Sixteen of the cases involved illegal possession of liquor, supplying liquor to minors or other unlawful use of liquor.

Majority of other charges included careless driving, speeding or other offences involving cars.

A bicycle stolen over a month ago was recovered in a ditch outside town.

One man was fined $10 for driving over a fire hose during a practice of the Vulcan Fire Brigade.

In a car mishap involving a minor injury the case was dismissed as an accident rather than of carelessness.

Local police are holding two small sums of money turned in recently. Anyone losing this money may enquire at the police office.

CREATING NEW TREE-CROPS

The old-time saying that woodcutters should be made to plant two trees for every one they take from a forest is opposed by the Canadian Forestry Association as a useless legend. A well-managed cutting operation will provide for re-growth of a new forest through nature's own seeding process.

BETHANY LUTHERAN CHURCH WOMEN

The October meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ellen Johnstone with 12 members answering the roll call. Pastor Granberg led the devotional with the lesson from the Bible on "How shall we pray?"

Correspondence was read and discussed and the members decided to send $10.00 to the fund for the blind. A vacuum cleaner has been bought to be used in the church and basement. A number of the ladies will be going to a Workshop Conference in mid-November.

This being the annual meeting the vice-president took the chair for nomination of officers for 1962, and are as follows: President, Mrs. Margaret Ost, Jr.; vice-president, Mrs. Isabelle Volesky; secretary, Mrs. Phyllis Huff; treasurer, Mrs. Lulu Sande; stewardship secretary, Mrs. Norma Magnuson and education secretary, Mrs. Ellen Johnstone. BIRTHDAY CLUB

The October meeting of the Birthday Club, held at the home of Mrs. Ed. Johnstone, opened by singing, "There's a Gold Mine In the Sky." Fourteen members answered roll call with an exchange of pickles or preserves.

CWL Vice-pres. At Vulcan Meeting

The October meeting of St. Andrew's C.W.L. Council was held in the parish hall. Mrs. Stan Scales presided, assisted by the secretary, Mrs. Les Shaw and Father Marlen.

Mrs. Herman Stevens, 1st national vice-president of the C.W.L., was guest speaker and Carmangay and Champion councils were guests. Mrs. Scales on behalf of the Vulcan Council presented Mrs. Stevens with a corsage of pink roses and each of the visiting presidents, Mrs. Passolli from Champion and Mrs. Hubka from Carmangay, with keepsake gifts.

Mrs. Doris Roth reported on the "Chest X-ray" meeting and volunteered to convene the registration of the town's people desiring the clinic's x-ray service.

Following other routine business matters, Mrs. Stevens gave a brief history of the league and pleaded that "all Catholic ladies" become league members regardless of the assistance they can afford the local council. In their membership they will share in the many masses and graces offered and they in turn will give "prestige" to the organization when it, on a national scale, approaches the government to have salacious literature and indecent movies curtailed or to promote educational TV and radio programs for children.

Further to this Mrs. Stevens went on to say that "Catholic women must be leaders and not docile followers or that we, too, may find ourselves in the same position as the women of Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia." We cannot ignore, she said, conditions in the world such as those in South America which leave the people ripe for communism. We must promote the advantages offered by our way of life and study Communism to learn the truth and disadvantages of their system.

Several amusing contests were conducted and winners were Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Joyce Fath and Mrs. Doris Roth. Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Kathy Jordan, Mrs. Annette Carlson, Mrs. Doris Roth and Mrs. Mary Zilke.

The forest protection laws of Quebec carry the heaviest penalties of any part of North America.

CRASH WELL DRILLING PROGRAM OUTLINED

REGINA, October 12, 1961—To meet the swiftly deteriorating water supply situation on the prairies, the Federal Department of Agriculture announced Wednesday, plans for an immediate start on an emergency well drilling program sponsored on a cost-sharing basis with governments of the three prairie provinces. Under the terms of this new plan, Canada will share equally with the provinces up to 70 percent of the costs incurred by rural municipalities to drill and bring into production wells for community use.

In elaborating on the announcement, Mr. G. L. MacKenzie, Director of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration, said that an understanding had already been reached with the Province of Saskatchewan as to what items of expenditure for well drilling, would qualify under the assistance program. These included:

1. Cost of drilling or boring provided that this part of the cost does not exceed $1,000 per well site unless prior written approval of additional expenditure has been given.

CANADA DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
 P.F.R.A. Headquarters

2. Cost of testing and development of a well.
3. Cost of purchasing and installing casing, well screen, pump and power unit, and electrical power where necessary.
4. Cost of well house and where necessary, because of low production, cost of installing storage facilities.

Technical services would be supplied by P.F.R.A. and the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture, to the extent possible.

On a similar basis, he said, program details were currently being worked out with the Provinces of Manitoba and Alberta, and would likely be announced shortly.

The point Mr. MacKenzie wished to stress was that this must in no way be considered to be anything else than a temporary program to meet an emergency situation. The offer of aid is limited to the present fall and winter season. He also wished to make clear that the present program was geared solely to serve an agricultural purpose.

In the case of Saskatchewan, applications for assistance, Mr. MacKenzie said, should be addressed to the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration, Canada Department of Agriculture, Motherwell Building, Regina, or to the Conservation and Development Branch of Department of Agriculture, Government of Saskatchewan. Municipalities should make sure that they do not commence drilling before they have official written approval. Applications should be on the form provided and should state the land location where drilling is to be undertaken, the name of the driller to be employed, arrangements for right-of-entry and easement if the land is privately owned, and whatever other information there is available in regard to nearby wells. On completion of construction, refund of 70 percent of the expenditure will be made by the Province to the rural municipality concerned on submission of a detailed statement of costs, including receipts. Responsibility for the actual construction, operation and maintenance of the project is left in the hands of the rural municipality.

At Vulcan Armouries

Now Enlisting Volunteers For Survival Courses

Cpl. Robert Gerding of Vulcan is one of more than 80 militiamen who have volunteered for full-time duty for the next few months as instructors for the Army's special national survival courses which begin Nov. 6. For the past two weeks the instructors have been brushing up on instructional techniques and taking practical courses in rescue training at Camp Wainwright.

Heading the local full time staff to handle the administration and training of the three six-week courses scheduled to be held at the Vulcan Armouries is Lieut. Melvin Burgess, an officer of "A" Company, The Calgary Highlanders. Besides Cpl. Gerding, he will be assisted by one other corporal-instructor (from Calgary) and by Pte. J. G. Jensen, who has again donned uniform to act as storeman and orderly room clerk. Also on full time Army duty, and stationed at High River as an instructor, is Staff Sgt. Leonard Hart of Vulcan.

A special training battalion has been set up to handle the administration and training of the volunteers for the national survival courses. Commanding Officer of the new training battalion is Lt. Col. Mark Tennant, a former commander of The Calgary Highlanders, who will be on temporary full-time duty until the special training courses are completed. His headquarters will be in Calgary.

Three courses are scheduled for the County of Vulcan area, the first one starting Nov. 6, and the last course ending about the middle of April. The quota is 30 men for each course. Enlisting of volunteers started on Monday of this week and response was considered good the first two days, with volunteers from Carmangay, Lomond and other district points as well as from Vulcan being enlisted. Each volunteer, as well as learning basic skills that will be of great value in the event of a national emergency, is paid $40 a week or a total of $240 for the six weeks each course lasts. Volunteers must be between the ages of 18 and 50 and are required to pass a medical examination.

The Vulcan Armouries is open every day to accommodate those applying to take the course or seeking further information and, this week, is also open every evening from 8 to 10 p.m.

Demonstration On Insecticide

A very interesting demonstration was held on the farm of Charlie Morrison, Nanton, Oct. 26, sponsored by National Grain Company Limited, on the new insecticide, 'Ruelene 25 E'—Warble and Louise Control, with 25 interested farmers in attendance, along with two representatives from Dow Chemical Company, manufacturers of 'Ruelene 25 E' and R. H. (Dick) Painter, from Lethbridge experimental farm.

This new chemical can either be applied as a pour on or spray. The pour on has many advantages over the spray as no high pressure spray equipment is needed and the pour on application is the much faster of the two. The treatment is more accurate than spray as each animal is treated according to size. For best results for Ruelene 25 E it is imperative that the user read the label carefully. This cannot be stressed enough.

Ruelene should not be used on dairy cattle, animals under 300 pounds, within 30 days of slaughter or an animal showing any signs of stress or after the first of December.

It requires about 40 years for a balsam forest to reach merchantable size.
